

Testimonials

My name is Carlos Pinon, and I am Camila Pinon's dad. By having the opportunity to send my child to a Head Start program, it has allowed me and my wife to get full-time employment. Being part of Head Start and the resources that are offered have allowed us to participate in programs that teach us male empowerment.

I was very happy to join the male warrior workshops. Thank you, teacher Andres, for inviting us. I think these workshops are very helpful for dads like me. Most of the time, we work so much and do not have time for our children. I myself work many hours during the day, and sometimes I don't spend enough time with Camila. After participating in these workshops, I learned that work is not everything. I need to give time to myself and especially to my daughter and family. Thank you for thinking about us, dads. It felt good to be in a chat just with dads. It's great to have activities with moms too, but many times we, dads, need time to ourselves and our children. Thank you, MNC, for creating the Male Warriors workshops. I look forward to joining the workshops this year.

Thank you to MNC and Head Start for the opportunity to be part of a family partnership.
